

Strong Partnerships: Creating opportunities together

We provide customized forestry services to First Nations communities, woodlot owners, community forests and private landowners. Our goal is to build mutually beneficial relationships and support businesses to be profitable and sustainable.

Our partners benefit from direct access to experts in forest planning, market access and regulatory compliance.

Enduring business relationships that support greater sustainability

We have a long history of building lasting business relationships that lead to a variety of environmental, social and economic benefits for our partners.

We offer a comprehensive set of forestry services tailored to meet the needs of our partners, including: forest planning, harvesting and silviculture, accessing domestic and international markets, securing government permits and managing regulatory due diligence.

Our partners benefit from our experienced team of professionals as well as our unparalleled global market access and company representation in major Pacific-Rim markets including BC, Japan, China, Korea and the US.
